Preface.

IN a work like the present only a few words of explanation are necessary. After consulting some well-known authorities we decided to eliminate from the volume a large quantity of matter connected with the history and antiquities of the united parishes. We were borne out in this decision by the fact that a large percentage of those who manifested a practical interest in the work were more anxious to obtain copies of the Registers than the accompanying history.

We think it sufficient to print verbatim the Account of the two parishes given in "Newcourt's Repertorium,' to which we have added notes, some of which have been most kindly supplied by friends.

As the Church of St. Mary Woolnoth has been entirely rebuilt and St. Mary Woolchurch Haw has been destroyed, it does not seem advisable to enlarge on the style or appearance of the old Churches. Care has however been taken to give such entries from the Churchwardens' accounts, &c., as show that they were handsome and large edifices. These Accounts are so voluminous that great difficulty has been experienced in making a selection at once interesting and concise. Special attention has been paid to the earlier portions, as there the Archæologist will find most to interest him, while the student of history will note how the stirring events of the time affected the parochial life of the citizens.

The Inventory of Church Goods which strikes us as particularly full has been given in extenso.

It will be seen that the Registers of both parishes were transcribed in 1599—

"1599. Item paid for fair writing into the Parchment booke all the Christenings weddings and burials from anno 1538 until this year 1599 [Woolnoth Ch. Acc.] iij*li*."

The Title page of the Woolchurch Register (p. 297) shows that in the same year a transcript was made from an older volume which commenced in 1558. The Woolchurch volume was disused after the Great Fire except for a few occasional entries.

This wholesale transcribing of the earlier portions of both Registers led to clerical errors, the scribe apparently being puzzled as to some of the names. On careful consideration we have thought it best to give a simple transcript without venturing to suggest correct readings, except that in the index some of the more manifest errors have been noted—a very careful revisal convinces us that the printer has done his work with great exactness. At page 43 however the date 1639 should have been inserted between Feb. 24 and April 8.

The plan wisely adopted by our best transcribers has been followed, and though every entry and every name have been carefully copied, superfluous matter has been omitted; had this not been done the already bulky volume would have grown to an unwieldly size without any commensurate advantage. Many minute details are given in the original as to the exact position of graves which were doubtless intended to guide future sextons. Notices of Burials in the Chancel have been copied as they shew that the deceased held a superior social position. Also a few notices of burials in "the new Churchyard" or "Bethlehem" showing that the parishioners occasionally made use of the Cemetery which was provided by Lord Mayor Sir Thomas Rowe in 1568, by enclosing part of the site of the Priory of St. Mary of Bethlehem close to Bishopsgate Street. This burying place was called "The new Churchyard near Bethlehem."

Some events connected with the Royal Family will be found recorded.

It is singular that no notice of the great plague of 1665 appears in the Woolnoth books. In the Woolchurch volume "pl." has been written in blacker ink.

The Woolnoth Registers possess a feature which is almost entirely absent from those of Woolchurch, Trades and designations are very fully entered, and we may be allowed to say a few words on this subject. Very many "Strangers"* lived in the parish. The Genealogist will recognise many of the names given below and in the Index. There are some words which ask for an explanation such as "Weynerth Stranger" (p. 199), and "Zelzere Stranger" (p. 190). Some of the Trades mentioned in the Register and Church Accounts also require explanation such as "Pasteler," "Gongfarmer," "Poyntagger." A "Vergenal maker" named Cramor is found in the 16th century, and an early instance of a double Christian name (foreign however) at page 14. "The Writer of the Court letter" (p. 1 and elsewhere) was the designation of a Scrivener prior to the grant of the Royal Charter in 1616. John Fearne (Farnese ?) a "stranger," was a "Mylliner," while the son of an Italian Duke (p. 194) was laid to rest with this brief record of his rank. The term "Chrisom" is explained in a document (Sta. Pa. Dom. 1636), "It was an ancient custom at Basingstoke that women coming to be churched brought with them a piece of linen cloth which was called a Chrisom which was offered and given to the Vicar, but if any child died before the mother's churching it was buried in the same Chrisom." We give but a few instances of rare words and would refer the reader to the general index where we have endeavoured to collect all words of real interest.

Any value which this volume may be found to possess is largely due to the assistance which has been most kindly rendered by many

* The meaning of the term "stranger" is explained by the following extract—"I thought that a forrener and a straunger had been all one . . . Than remaine there none other forreners and straungers to be looked upon, but Dutchmen, Danes, Italians and frenchmenne." (Bales "Declaration," 1554, fo. 35). The following will be found in this volume designated as "strangers" or "foreigners;" some of the names appear to have been Anglicised while some are evidently Scotch.—Ashby, Babham, Bagnall, Bare, Beesan, Beldon, Bissack, Bigwood, Blackford, Bodington, Bogenmaker, Bowdans, Brainger, Brian, Brunskill, Browne, Bugardte, Buggin, Bultell, Byoma, Caloone, Chaney, Clarke, Cokytt, Collard, Copanoll, Cornelius, Crawley, Dackellon, de Corano, de Dorper, Deggis, Delastat, Deloie, de Pive, Devielmo, Domicolo, du Mont, Durant, Eies, Ellyott (? Allett), Fearne, Finch, Frederigo, Fropp, Furrey, Gabriell, Gardner, Gildersleeve, Gills, Gossoin, Greene, Greye, Hall, Hill, Holland, Houbelon, Hovenor, Johnson, Jurion, King, Lant, Lanz, Locattell, Lucas, Marishaw, Maurice, Meakins, Moicier, Moldeworth, Monge, Moone, Morgan, Morundo, Munns, Myskin, Oute, Patton, Paves, Pighte, Rote, Roukesby, Rycle, Sadler, Sandtman, Seggore, Selynge, Shalts, Shevaleare, Shipman, Sixty, Slany, Smith, Sparrow, Stenly, Sturtivant, Tailor, Torrentine, Tybault, Van Cowen Bargen, Van Cullen, Van Dunyseller, Van Hove, Van Seldt, Waker, Walton, Wayman, White, Woodcock. (For an important document concerning the Company of Merchant strangers see Sta. Pa. Dom. 163⅗, vol. cclxxij., § 12.)

friends, and our thanks are specially due first to the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths who, owing to their long and close intimacy with the parish and with which they have been honourably connected for centuries, have handsomely and generously subscribed towards the cost of this work; also to the Rev. E. HOSKINS, Rector of St. Mary Magdelene and St. Gregory by St. Paul; J. JACKSON HOWARD, Esq., LL.D.; W. H. OVERALL, Esq.; WALFORD D. SELBY, Esq., Record Office; J. SHARPE, Esq., LL.D., Guildhall; J CHALONER SMITH, Esq., Somerset House; H. D. PHILLIPS, ESQ., and Messrs. NOBLE and ESSEX. We owe much to the taste and care shown by Messrs. BOWLES & SONS, our printers. We feel sure that Mr. J. BOWLES has taken special interest in these records as he is Churchwarden of St. Mary Woolchurch. The volume has been printed in the parish. Bearbinder Lane (now called George Street) was the direct communication between the two Churches and a relic of Old London is still to be met with in a cellar in this street.

As this volume has been the fruit of much labour we trust it may be appreciated by those who are desirous of preserving the annals of the past.

Account

of the PARISH of ST. MARY WOOLNOTH,

Extracted from Newcourt's Repertorium Ecclesiasticum Parochiale Londinense from the Conquest to A.D. 1700. London, 1708.

[The notes in small numerals have been supplied from various sources. Ed.]

St. Mary Woolnoth[1] Rectory (page 461).

THIS Church, called S. Mary Woolnoth of the Nativity, but the Reason thereof (Stow says) he hath not yet learned, is situate on the South Side, and towards the West end of Lombard Street, in Langbourne Ward. It is a Rectory and subject to the Archdeacon. Stow Surv. 223.

This Church was new built about the year, 1438, from the very foundation, as it seems; for I find a Commisson dated March 24 that year granted by Robert Gilbert, then Bishop of London to the Bishop of Enachdum, in Ireland (a Bishoprick now united to some other in that Kingdom) for the Consecration thereof. By which Commission he impowered the said Bishop to Consecrate, not only the Church, but also two Altars in it; one to the Honour of the Blessed Virgin S. Mary and S. Anne, and the other to S. John Baptist and S. John Evangelist. And further to assign the Feast of Dedication of this Church to be on Thursday next after the Feast of S. Anne the Mother of the immaculate Virgin which is Thursday next after July 26. Gilbert 85.

Sir Hugh Brice, Goldsmith, Mayor in the First of Hen. VII., Keeper of the King's Exchange at London, and one of the Governors of the King's Mint in the Tower of London under William Lord Hastings in the 5 Edw. IV. deceased built in this Church a Chapel called the Charnel as also part of the Body of the Church and of the Steeple, and gave money towards the finishing thereof besides the House that he had prepared. He died in 1496 and was buried in the Body of this Church. Stow ut supra.

Sir Simon Eyre a famous Merchant sometime an Upholster, then a Draper and Mayor of London in 1445, the Founder of Leaden Hall and a Fair Chapel there, gave the Cardinal's Hatt Tavern in Lombard Street with a Tenement annext on the East part of it, and a Mansion behind the East Tenement together with an Alley from Lombard Street to Cornhill with the appurtenances, all of which were Ibidem.

[1] Willmore alias Willnoth, in a Will 1443.

Ibid 163. by him new built towards a Brotherhood of our Lady in this Church. He died Sep. 18, 1459, and was buried in the same.[2]

Ibid 223. Geo. Lusken sometime Taylor to the Prince, built the Chapel of S. George in this Church.[3] Here was a per-Baudake 85. petual Chantry founded for the souls of Gregory de Rakesley and Amicia his Wife of which the Parishioners were Patron; which Gregory was the same who was Mayor of London from the year 1275 to the year 1282 and dying not long after was buried in the Grey Friars Church in which Priory he built Dorters and Chambers and gave Bed to them.

Baybr, 188. Another perpetual Chantry was founded here at the Altar of the Blessed Virgin and S. Anne about the year 1400 for the souls of Tho. Noket, Gregory Norton and their wives, and others their Relations of which the two Prioress and Convent of S. Mary Clarkenwell were Patrons. But these two Chantries it seems were afterwards united by reason whereof the Rector, Churchwardens and Chief of the Parishioners presented sometimes, and sometime the said Prioress and Convent of S. Mary Clarkenwell as appears by the London Registry.

The Advowson of this Church was all along in the gift of the Prioress and Convent of St. Helen, London, till their suppression in the reign of Hen. VIII. who soon after, viz., Stow Sur. 224. in 31 of his Reign granted it to Sir Martin Bowes in whose family the Right of Patronage hath continued ever since. Which Sir Martin Bowes, Goldsmith and Mayor of London anno 1545, died Aug. 4, 1566, and with Cecily, Dame Anne and Dame Elizabeth his wives was buried under a goodly Marble close Tomb under the Communion Table here.

Ibidem. There was a goodly Monument in the East end of the Chancel of this Church erected by the Executors of Sir Thomas Ramsey, Knight and Mayor of this City in 1577 in memory of the said Sir Thomas who died May 19, 1590, and of his two virtuous Ladies Dame Alice and Dame Mary, the latter of which was very remarkable for her Charity to several places, especially to Christ's Hospital.

Sion Col. MS. In 1636 the yearly Profits of this Church were returned as followeth—

This Church was not wholly consumed in the late dreadful Fire; but the Steeple remained unburnt and part of the Walls of the Church which is now rebuilt chiefly on the old Walls except the North side which fronts Lombard Street and is wholly new, by the munificence (if I mistake not) of the late Worthy and Generous (but unfortunate) Sir Robert Viner, Knight and Baronet, deceased.[4] It is a. John de Norton was parson of this Church 1355, for on Octob. 22 that year he had the King's License to exchange it for the Church of St. Peter in Berkhamsted with Phill. de Legh [Pat. 29, E. III., p. 3] but this exchange seems not to have taken effect because after, viz., Nov. 29 following the said de Legh gets the King's License to exchange his said Ch. of Berkhamstead for that of St. Michael Queenhithe [ib.] Neither is it likely that this took effect for on 22 of next July the said de Legh obtains another License to exchange the said Ch. of Berkhamsted for that of St. Edmund Lombard Street [Pat. 30, Ed. III., p. 2] and whether that was effectual I cannot find by the Registry.

St. Mary Woolnoth.

THE Church of St. Mary Woolnoth forms a very conspicuous object in the City of London, and is situated at the apex of the angle formed by the junction of King William Street and Lombard Street. The late Bishop of London, in conversation with the present Rector, spoke of it as "the most prominent church in the City, and second in importance only to the Cathedral of St. Paul's." In this work, the history of the Church—for the very material reason given in the preface—must become a secondary matter; for the chief importance and interest of it lie in the transcription of its registers and those of the sister parish, which began more than 300 years ago, and must consequently transcend historical matter connected with the Church. NEWCOURT supplies sufficient information, an annotated copy of which will be found in the body of this work. It may here be remarked that the "Domesday Book" affords us no help, as London was exempted from the operation of its survey. In the preface in the edition by Vacher and Son there is the following extract, which seems to account for this omission: "The absence of any record of the many churches contained in it (Middlesex) may, however, be mentioned as one in which it stands nearly alone. It might be thought singular that the metropolis of the kingdom should be altogether unnoticed; but it is understood that London and a few other chief cities were exempted from the survey by charters of immunity."

STOWE says he has "not yet learned" the reason why St. Mary's was called the Church of Our Lady of Woolnoth. Some say its name was derived from its closeness to the beam where wool was weighed in the Stocks Market, in the parish of Woolchurch Haw, and that it obtained its name from being wool-neagh, or nigh; but Mr. Gwilt says that it may, with more probability, and with better approximation to the present orthography, be derived by the mere transposition of a single letter, from the words Wul-noht—a wool-nought—as distinguishing it from the one in whose churchyard (Woolchurch) the wool-beam was actually placed. The site on which the Church is built has been for long ages dedicated to religious worship—longer, perhaps, than that of any other fabric in the kingdom. It is supposed—and with reason—that one of the earliest temples erected by the Romans in England, and dedicated to the Goddess Concordia, stood on this spot. In digging for the foundation of the present church, in 1715, some beautiful specimens of Roman pottery, bones and tusks of animals, tesselated pavement, Roman coins, and many other pieces of antiquity were discovered twenty feet below the surface, also a well, from which, when emptied, a pure and wholesome spring arose. The temple to which we have above alluded gave place in time to Christianity, and from its ruins a Christian church arose to the honour of the Blessed Virgin. In the year 1355 we have actual proof of the existence of a church on this spot, knowing, as we do, the name of its Rector at that date. This was the church which was rebuilt, of which, also, we have authentic information in 1438. Nearly 200 years later we find it was thoroughly restored and renovated, and in 1666 it was seriously damaged by the "great and dreadful fire," and was repaired again about ten years later; but this restoration does not appear to have been complete, for the old structure was entirely removed in 1715, and the present church rebuilt, finished, and opened on Easter Day, 1727, under the guidance and ingenuity of NICHOLAS HAWKESMOOR, a pupil of Sir Christopher Wren. It is a very beautiful example of the Italian style, the interior of which is unrivalled by those of WREN himself, the instructor and master of the architect, and the defects are to be found only in detail, the chief of which, as Mr. GWILT remarks, and who is the principal authority on its architecture, is the "break in the entablature between the wider inter-columnations, yet the church has such exquisite beauties that it is irksome to dwell on its few and trifling faults." On the north side the elevation is composed of three large semi-circular rusticated niches, each standing on a lofty rusticated pedestal, relieved with blank recesses, which are repeated in the intervals below between the niches; and it may be mentioned that this side has been selected as a specimen of its order as a copy for the students at South Kensington. The three entrances at the west front are under lofty rusticated arches, through and at the sides of the tower. This is oblong and rusticated to the level of the cornice, above which is an unbroken pedestal for the support of six composite columns in the east and west elevations, and of two of the north and south sides. From this order rise two low towers, pierced and surmounted with balustrades. The South front is pierced with four semi-circular-headed windows, like the lantern in the upper storey. The whole walls are of stone, and the rustic grooves wide and deep.* The interior is very richly and beautifully decorated, and almost square, being built in the form of the Roman atrium. Twelve Corinthian columns, fluted and carrying an enriched entablature one-quarter of their height are placed three in each angle, at a distance from the walls about one-sixth of the width of the whole church; these support an entablature and clerestory above it, which latter takes the form of a large semi-circular window on each of the four sides. The ceiling is profusely ornamented with panels and carved mouldings, all in stone. The east end is recessed square for the altar-piece, under an oak baldachino, carried by two twisted columns, with Corinthian capitals.

MAITLAND says: "In Lombard Street was situate a magnificent Royal Palace, which I take to have stood in this parish, which EDWARD III., in the year 1348, conferred upon the Collegiate Church or Royal Chapel of St. Stephen, in his palace at Westminster; and on the west side of the church, and south side of Lombard Street, stood the City mansion of the Earl of Suffolk." From "Steven's History of Monasteries" (page 295), we find St. Helen's nunnery, which had the advowson of St. Mary Woolnoth, was founded 1216 (HENRY III.), dissolved Nov. 25th, 1539. The Abbey of Colchester had the advowson of St. Mary Woolchurch, dissolved in 1540. First abbot, 1104, and the last was hanged at Colchester in 1539, for refusing to acknowledge the King's supremacy. In 1638 the Rectory and glebe was worth £22 13*s.* 4*d.* Another source of revenue were two lectureships, one of which—founded by Sir MARTIN BOWES—still exists; the other—founded by Mr. WITES—is a thing of the past.

* Gwilt in loco.

In 1440 there was a crucifix in the church, with a gilded foot of hawthorn leaves, two amices of blue cloth of gold, with haws sitting on a perche.

We find mention by STOW in the old church of the following monuments, none of which are now remaining :—

Sir MARTIN BOWES, Lord Mayor, 1566.
Sir HUGH BRICE, Lord Mayor, 1485.
Sir SIMON EYRE, Lord Mayor, 1459.
Sir THOMAS RUMSEY, Lord Mayor, 1590.
Sir JOHN PERCIVAL, 1498.

Here are memorials of the family of VINER, and an inscription to the memory of Mr. JAMES HOUBLON, "who," as his descendant, Mr. PENNANT, expresses it, "was eminent for his plainness and piety," the following epitaph was composed for him by SAML. PEPYS, Esq., Secretary to the Admiralty in the reigns of CHARLES II. and JAMES II. :—

JACOBUS HOUBLON,
Londinas P.E.T.R.I. filius,
Ob fidem Flandria exulantis :
Ex. C. Nepotibus habuit LXX. superstites :
Filios V. videns mercatores florentissimos ;
Ipse Londinensis Bursæ Pater ;
Piissimè obiit Nonagenarius,
Ao. D. CLXXXII.

There are also thirteen mural tablets, only three of which are worthy of note—that of JOHN NEWTON, late Rector of the church ; that of HENRY FOURDRINIER ; and that of GABRIEL SMYTH, grandson of the learned JOHN SMYTH, Esq., Nibley, Gloucestershire, the author of the lives of the Berkeleys, written in 1638.

The will of Sir JOHN PERCIVAL hangs in the church.

But we now pass on to give a short account of

THE ORGAN

THE earliest record we possess of such an instrument in the church of St. Mary Woolnoth appears from an extract from the Churchwardens' books, dated 1539, where we find the following items entered in their accounts for that and succeeding years :—

1539. Item paid to Howe the organ maker for his yearly fee ending at the said later Mychemas iiij*s.*

1552. Item payd to Gregorie the Clerk for playing at the organ one whole yeare xiij*s.* iiij*d.*

156½. Item received of Richard Tyrwhitt Vicar of Barking in Essex, the viij day of May 1562 for cij*lb.* of old organ pypes of lead which were viewed by John Wetherhill and Thomas Atkynson by the commandment of Sir Martyn Bowes and wayed by the prson and me, and sold for ij*d.* the pounde xviij*s.*

156¾. Item payd to good-man Howe for ij sprynges for base pype of organ

The annual fee to JOHN HOWE from 1539 ceases in 1568. There is no mention of the organ afterwards.

1580. Oct 21. John Howe organ-maker (in 1570 "organ-player") receives a yearly fee. Sometimes he is called "Father Howe."

No mention of organ after 1570.

It would appear from these items that the then organ was a large and ancient instrument—worthy of a church which boasted of no less than three altars and a cloister, a large choir of singing clerks, chanting priests, the treble voices of many children, and a church which provided harps, garlands and lamps for seven virgins on each successive All-Hallow's Day. Probably, too, when part of it was sold, as we learn by one of the above-mentioned items, the rest of the pipes were stored away, and the case removed, though from what we can gather it is not at all improbable that some of these were utilised in the next organ by DALLAMS, and worked in again by Father SCHMIDT, and that these are now in the present one, having every appearance of rich decoration, careful diapering, and great age.

There is very little doubt but that, during the time of the Great Rebellion, almost everything, in the shape of ornamental church furniture, or what was interesting to the antiquarian and ecclesiologist, was ruthlessly mutilated or destroyed, and that this organ, to which we have alluded, shared the common fate of all things ecclesiastical. Soon after the restoration, when choral services were about to be revived, it was found that only four organ builders existed in this country, viz., DALLAMS, of London; LOOSEMORE, of Exeter; THAMAR, of Peterborough; and PRESTON, of York, the first-named of which, ROBERT DALLAMS, supplied the new organ for St. Mary's. It was this same DALLAMS—"Citizen and Blacksmith of London"—who built the large organ in York Minster, which was burnt in 1829.

But ROBERT DALLAMS' organ was not long destined to lead the praises of the worshipping congregation at St. Mary's, for it was almost irretrievably injured by the Great Fire of 1666. It then became palpably necessary to supply a new one. The four English builders were unable to meet all the demands of the country, and we find that premiums were offered to foreign builders to come and settle in London. Amongst the first and best of these were BERNARD SMITH (commonly called Father SCHMIDT), a German, who came to this country at the latter part of the 17th century; also RENATUS HARRIS, a Frenchman, tempted, no doubt, by the same ambitious spirit as his German rival. Their memorable contest respecting the Temple organ is well known; for a whole twelvemonth the battle continued, until the Lord Chief Justice JEFFRIES, who was appointed arbitrator, decided in favour of SCHMIDT. It may here be remarked that altogether SCHMIDT erected thirty-eight organs in England, amongst which were those of Durham and St. Paul's. In 1680 subscriptions were invited, from the parishioners and others, to procure a new organ, which SCHMIDT built during the year 1681; but it is probable that in building the new one, he made use of some, if not all, of the pipes contained in the old, as there are certain marks on some of them to prove it. There is another reason—SCHMIDT has always been credited with being most particular in making and finishing his pipes, especially those made of wood; and it so happens that the pipes of the stop diapason now in the organ (wood) are very roughly made; some also of the pipes of the principal (great organ) have traces of diaper work upon them, and the feet are of various lengths, showing that they were the front pipes of some previous organ. The pipes of these two stops below FF are of another make, so that was probably the lowest note of the one made by DALLAMS. SCHMIDT'S organ had only one manual of what was termed short octaves, and the keys black-whites and white-blacks; but it must have been a very good one of its kind, and with such a full complement of stops it must have produced a very fine chorus effect. It may here be remarked that this must have been the identical organ that JOHN READING (formerly organist of Winchester Cathedral, and composer of the celebrated old tune known as the Portuguese Hymn) played upon, as he was organist of St. Mary Woolnoth in the year 1682. The organ must have remained in its original state till about fifty years since, when it had a second manual added to it.

About the year 1850 the organ was greatly altered and modernised. New and complicated movements were added to SCHMIDT'S action, which was old and worn, the result being that it was often out of order till the year 1868, when it was put into the hands of Messrs. GRAY and DAVISON to be reconstructed, at a cost of about £190. They, however, quite altered the rich old tone, by first taking certain stops out, and then putting on a heavier pressure of wind to make up. In 1875-6, when the church underwent a thorough rearrangement, the organ was again altered, and its position changed.

The original organ stood in a small arch on the north side, over the tomb of Sir MARTIN BOWES, and underneath bore this inscription: "This organ was built by Father SCHMIDT in 1681."

Account

OF THE

PARISH of ST. MARY WOOLCHURCH HAW,

Extracted from Newcourt's Repertorium Ecclesiasticum Parochiale Londinense from the Conquest to A.D. 1700. London 1708.

St. Mary Woolchurch Rectory (page 459).

THIS Church of St. Mary (which is a Rectory) stood near the Stocks in Walbrook Ward, and was called St. Mary Woolchurch of a beam placed in the Church yard which was thereof called Woolchurch Haw of the weighing of wool there used. And to the verifying of this, Stow tells us, that he found among the Customs of London written in French, in the reign of Edward ij a chapter entitled Les Custoines de Woolchurch Haw, wherein is set down what was there to be paid for every parcel of Wool weighed, which Custom there continued till the 6th of Ric. ij John Churchmom then building the Custom House upon the Wool Key to serve for that use. Sto. Sur. 224.

This Church (I guess) was built about the Conquerors time by one Hubert de Ria, Father of Eudo, Steward of the Household to King William the Conqueror, and Founder of the Abbey of St. John, in Colchester; for I find in the said Eudo's Charter of Foundation and Endowment of that Abbey, he gives to it (inter Alia) this Church by the name of St. Mary de Westcheping, London quæ vocatur Niewecherche, in these words viz., "Et Ecclesiam St. Mariæ de Westcheping, London quæ vocatur Niewecherche, concedente Ailwardo Grosso Presbytero, qui in eadem Ecclesia et donatione Antecessoris mei Huberti de Ria Personatum consecutus fuerat." So that Ailward the Priest having this Church by the Gift of Hubert de Ria, it is plain, that the said Hubert was Patron thereof, and probably the Founder too, by its being then called New Church, as if then newly built. And hence, I think, that the Street which lies between Cheapside and Cornhill, and is now called the Poultry was in those days part of Cheapside or that which was then called West Cheping, on the South side of the upper end of which this Church stood. Mon. Augl. 2 vol. 893.

As this Church was given to the Abbot and Convent of Colchester by the said Founder of the said Abbey, so, for ought appears to the contrary, they continued Patrons thereof till their Suppression, upon which it came to the Crown and hath remained in it ever since. It is subject to the Archdeacon, saving only as to Wills and Administrations, which belong to the Commissary. Archid. Com. Lon.

Sto. Sur. 224. This was a reasonable fair and large Church and was new built by License granted in the 20th Hen. vi. with condition to be built 15 foot from the Stocks Market for sparing of Light to the said Stocks.

Ibedem. The Parson of this Church was to have four Marks the year for Tythes of the said Stocks, paid him by the Masters of the Bridge House by a Special Decree made 2 Hen. vii.

Ibidem. John Wingar, Grocer, Mayor of this City in 1504 was a great Helper to the building of this Church and was buried in 1505. He gave unto it by his Testament two large Basons in silver and £20 in Gold.

Ibidem. Richard Shore, Draper, one of the Sheriffs in 1505, was a great Benefactor to this Church in his Life time, and by his Testament gave £20 to make a porch at the westend thereof, and was there buried. The Church was richly repaired and beautified in 1629.

Tunstall 15. Here was a perpetual Chantry founded in the Chapel of St. Nicholas the Bishop and Confessor by Ann Cawood widow about the beginning of the Reign of King Henry viij of which the Parson and Parishioners were Patrons.

Sion. Coll. MS. In 1636 the yearly profits of this Church were returned as followeth—

	£	s.	d.
Tyths	50	16	06
Glebe	22	13	04
Casualties	13	06	08

This Church being burnt down in the late dreadful Fire, is since united to that of St. Mary Woolnoth which is made the Parochial Church for the Inhabitants of both the Parishes; but the site of this Church and also of the Churchyard are laid into the Stocks Market Place. And the profits of both these Churches in lieu of Tyths, are made of the yearly value of £160 to the Incumbent.

Reg. Lon. In 1693 the Churchwardens say in the Presentment, that they believe there was a Parsonage House belonging to the Rector before the same was burnt down in the late daeadful fire. And the present Rector says that he receives £16 12*s.* 4*d. per ann.* That the Glebe in 1636 was £22 13*s.* 4*d.* as above.

[End of Newcourt's Notes.]

THE following Notes are given to supplement Newcourt's List of Rectors and his notes thereon.

1395. John Dyne, Rector of "Sci Nichi ad Maceti" (St. Nicholas Shambles) in 1395. Rector of St. Alphege, 1396. Rector of St. Leonard, Eastcheape, 1413.

1385. William Tankervyle. His Will was proved in 1385. Archd. Crt of London.

1425. Richard Chandler is mentioned in the Will of ——Coldred, 1425.

1436. John Brooke, Brewer, Henry Skete and others, Grocers, Parishioners, devise land situated in Walbrook to John White, Chaplain.

1442. An old engraving exists of a broken slab on which is a floriated cross with arms of equal length and an inscription partly destroyed the stone measured about 12 inches in height and 8 inches in width, at the foot of the engraving is the following :

"In digging the foundation of the Mansion House for the Lord Mayor of London in April 1739, a stone with this Devise and Inscription was taken out of the Remains of St. Mary Woolchurch which was destroyed by the general conflagration in 1666."

The engraving is, I am informed, to be met with in some of the Histories of London, but all trace of the stone has disappeared.

1442. John Skypton—his Will is dated 1442—directs to be buried in the Chapel of St. Nicholas.

1479. 1459, Mr. Robert Silvester "Parish Priest," is mentioned in the Will of J. Bonde.

1477. John Benet is mentioned in the Wills of Elizabeth Percyvale, 1477, and J. Clerk, 1479.

1516-7 John Cornard—his Will is dated 151$\frac{6}{7}$—directs to be buried in the Quyre. Makes a bequest to the Abbot of Colchester who had presented him to the Rectory of St. Nicholas, Colchester.

1550. William Capon, S.T.P., Rector of North Stoneham, Hants, appears to have founded a School at Southampton. John, Bishop of Salisbury, was his Brother. He held the livings of Symsborough, Berkeley Harness, St. Mary Southampton, and Duxford, Co. Cambridge, and was Master of Jesus College, Cambridge, from 1516 to 1546, when he resigned it. His Will is dated 1550.

1545. In the Will of —— Bettenson, 1545, these words occur: "Per me Johannem Cardon Eucharistiæ Servum ac Curatum Ecclesiæ."

Thomas Jenkynson, Will proved April, 1594. Robert Browne, Executor.

1619. John Hayward. Administration 14 Jan., 1619. Relict Mary.

1619. John Crooke, "Parson here." Will of Cornelius Fish, 1619.

1633. Nathaniel Bernard, Preacher at St. Mary Woolchurch Sta. Pa. Dom. Ser.

1641. "And for that some good part of my poore labours for many yeres hath byn bestowed in Woolchurch in London I will my body be buried in the Chancel there," Will of John Croke, "Professor of Divinitie and Bencher Grayes Inn," 1598.

1641. William Fuller. Will 1641. His wife Mary, Executrix.

1684. Richard Ball, see Will of J. Gosson, 1658; perhaps the same as Richard Ball, Master of the two Societies of the Temple, whose Will is dated 1684.

ABSTRACT OF AN ORIGINAL DEED.

BACKWELL AND MELMOTH.

Indenture dated 5th January, 1702 (3) BETWEEN John Backwell, of the Inner Temple, London, Esquire, son and heir of Edward Backwell, late of London, Esquire, deceased, Richard Backwell, Barnaby Backwell and Leigh Backwell, of London, Gentlemen, the three younger sons of the said Edward Backwell, deceased, Sir John Mordaunt, of London, Knight, Shem Bridges, of London, Esquire, Thomas Lofeild, of London, Esquire, Richard Mountney, of Kew, in the parish of Richmond, Surrey, Gentleman, and Anne his wife, sole daughter and heiresse of John Backwell, brother of the said Edward Backwell, late of Broughton, in the County of Bucks, deceased, surviving Trustee of the said Edward Backwell, of the first part; Nathaniell Syms, of London, Gentleman, of the second part; and William Melmoth, of Lincoln's Inn, County of Middlesex, Esquire, of the third part.

WITNESSETH that for and in consideration of the sum of £170 paid to Richard Snagg, Joseph Moore, Thomas Paine, Charles Shales, and William Atwill, of London, Goldsmiths, by said William Melmoth [pursuant to a decree in Chancery of the 9th March, 1698, between Sir Edward Turner, Knight, and others (Creditors of the said Edward Backwell) Plaintiffs, and the said John Backwell and others, Defendants], and also for 5*s.* each paid by said Melmoth to the others mentioned (in the first and second parts) the said John Backwell and others bargains, sells and confirms to the said Melmoth, his heirs and assigns for ever—

> " All that messuage or tenement with the appurtenances situate
> " and being in Lumbard Street, in the parish of St. Mary
> " Woolnoth London comonly called or knowne by the > " name or signe of the Unicorne now or late in the tenure
> " or occupation of Henry Lambe or his assigns, abutting on
> " a messuage now in the possession of Andrew Stone called
> " y^e^ Grasshopper in the East, another messuage late in the > " possession of James St. Johns called y^e^ White Horse in the > " West upon Lumbard Street aforesaid on the South and > " upon part of Garaway's Coffee House on the North, which > " said messuage or tenement mentioned to be hereby bar-
> " gained or sold contains these several roomes following
> " (that is to say) a cellar on the first story, a shopp and back
> " shopp and with drawing roome on the second story, a
> " dyneing roome, a little parlour and kitchen on the third
> " story, two chambers on the fourth story, ffour garrett
> " chambers on the fifth story and a little roome or turrett
> " upon the leads over the same."

This ought to appear at end of S. Mary Woolnoth but was inadvertently omitted.

The Deed is signed by all of the persons mentioned in the three parts, eleven in number, and witnessed by Edward Mounteney and others. Also an endorsement receipt for the £170 signed by Rich. Snagg, Jos. Moore, Thos. Payne, Chas. Shales, and Wm. Atwill.

This is probably one of the most complete deeds descriptive of the transfer of a Lombard Street house in the reign of Queen Anne that is to be found.

NOTE.—In the collection of original documents from whence this has been kindly supplied, are also others relating to the old Goldsmiths and Bankers of London, and a very interesting deed dated 8th May, 1673, being a conveyance to Thomas Archer, of Tamworth, co. Warwick, of an extensive estate in the County of Huntingdon, signed by Edward Backwell, John Backwell, and Alderman Sir Robert Clayton. Attached to the deed are three of the most perfect seals possible to be met with.
